WESTERN HILLS ANIMAL HOSPITAL ANESTHETIC PROCEDURES

Please be aware that anesthetic procedures at Western Hills Animal Hospital are all inclusive. This means that the price quoted will include all of the following:

- Ketamine / Diazepam injection for sedation
- Aerrane gas anesthesia
- Heart Monitoring
- Atropine injection to stabilize heart rate while recovering
- Antibiotic injection
- Pain Medication
- Antibiotics to go home with if necessary
- Follow-up appointment for suture removal
- Any other post operative care

With the best interests of your pet in mind current vaccinations for Distemper and Rabies are required on all anesthetic procedures. Felines are required to have a negative Leukemia and FIV test. Pre-Anesthetic Blood Tests are required to confirm that your pet's organs are functioning properly and to reveal any hidden health conditions that could put your pet at risk while under anesthesia. A presurgical checkup and blood draw will need to be scheduled at least 5 days prior to the surgical procedure. If the animal has been seen and has had bloodwork done within the last 6 months, there is no need for another exam or bloodwork.

Your pet will be admitted in the morning between 8 and 9:00 AM. We will schedule a time for you to pick your pet up and speak with Dr. Brenneman later in the afternoon. Declaw procedures go home the following day after 11:00 AM.

REMEMBER TO FAST YOUR PET FOR 12 HOURS BEFORE THE DROP-OFF TIME IN THE MORNING. A LITTLE WATER IS OK TO GIVE, BUT PLEASE, NO FOOD AFTER 8:00 PM THE NIGHT BEFORE THE PROCEDURE.

To schedule your pet's surgical procedure, please call the office at 922-2266.
